RECIPE FOR ORANGE, ALMOND AND YOGHURT LOAF

This simple and quick-to-make loaf is a lovely afternoon treat. Putting yoghurt in the sponge keeps it moist and rich and the orange zest livens things up.

Serves 8 - 10

Ingredients

190g (7oz) unsalted butter, plus extra for greasing

190g (7oz) plain flour, plus extra for dusting

1 tbsp finely grated orange zest

190g (7oz) caster sugar

3 large eggs

60g (2oz) ground almonds

1tsp baking powder

Quarter tsp salt

25g (1oz) plain yoghurt

1 tsp vanilla essence

10g (third of an oz) flaked almonds

One 8.5 x 17.5 cm (3.5 x 7 in) loaf tin with 7.5 cm (3 in) sides.

Preheat the oven to 170C, (325 F), gas mark 3 then grease the loaf tin with butter and dust with flour.

Using a hand held electric whisk or a freestanding electric mixer with the paddle attachment, cream together the butter, orange zest and sugar until the mixture is soft and fluffy. Add the eggs one at a time, whisking well after each addition. Scrape down the sides of the bowl every now and then to ensure the eggs and butter are properly mixed in.

In a separate bowl, mix together the flour, ground almonds, baking powder and salt. Tip the dry ingredients into the creamed mixture in two batches and whisk together on a low speed until just incorporated, then mix in the yoghurt and vanilla essence.

Pour the batter into the prepared loaf tin and sprinkle the flaked almonds on top. Place in the oven and bake for 50 – 60 minutes or until the sponge is firm on top and a skewer inserted into the centre of the cake comes out clean. Remove from the oven and allow the loaf to cool a little before turning it out of the tin on to a wire rack to cool completely before serving.
